

JAMES LUPO

ACADEMIC CAREER

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

09/03-Present Clinical Assistant Professor of Law

Communication and Legal Reasoning: Responsible for curriculum development including creation of practice oriented problems; integrated classical rhetorical analysis, law and literature and philosophy of lawyering perspectives into first year lawyering skills course.

Law and Rhetoric - Toward a Jurisprudence of Expression: developed and taught seminar on law as cultural discourse between lawyers, courts, congresses, and cultural actors.

Legal Discourse - Communication Beyond the Case and Client: developed course addressing legal communication outside the realm of representation in which lawyers speak and write to client groups, professional organizations, special interest constituencies and governmental bodies.

Additional Responsibilities: Faculty Advisor, International Team Project, Italy 2005; Faculty Advisor, multiple comments, Northwestern Law Review; Faculty Advisor, Senior Research Projects; Instructor, Lawyer as Problem Solver, Communication and Ethics seminars.

09/04-Present Co-Director of Academic Counseling

Responsible for all aspects of academic assistance to law students including preparing and delivering "Successful Student" lecture series, Academic Writing lectures for fulfillment of writing requirement and general academic support and counseling on an as needed, individual student basis.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY CHICAGO SCHOOL OF LAW

09/01-06/03 Instructor, Legal Writing and Advocacy

Designed lecture and small group work approaches to teaching legal communication and advocacy skills including intensive one on one conferencing and actual courtroom experiences.

01/03-06/04 Lecturer, Contracts, Loyola Business Law Institute

Developed curriculum and designed essay examinations for Master of Laws students including black letter contracts law and the UCC as well as jurisprudential approaches to understanding what the law of commerce can and should do within the context of an individual fairness versus predictability of outcomes continuum.

09/02-01/03 Instructor, "Great Books and the Law" Seminar

Led seminar on Dickens' Hard Times, focusing on themes of positivism versus relativism in Anglo-American jurisprudence, the effect of eighteenth century utilitarian moral philosophy on industrial revolution legal thinking and the role of emotions in the law.

LEGAL CAREER

5/89-Present BOLLINGER RUBERRY & GARVEY
Associate/Counsel

Practice in commercial litigation and appeals. Responsible for multi-million dollar case management budgets, case and practice group staffing, firm marketing initiatives. Significant client, associate and professional education presentation experience.

10/87-4/89 GOGGIN CUTLER & HULL
Law Clerk

General litigation.

5/88-9/88 CROSBY HEAFEY ROACH & MAY
Summer Associate

General litigation.

PUBLICATIONS/PRESENTATIONS

The Transformation of Myth: Aeschylus' Erinyes and Cultural Evolution, The Journal of Graduate Liberal Studies, Fall, 1996. Discussion and analysis of Aeschylus' use of myth to describe the democratization of Aereopagus Council Court

Dancing in the Dark: Nominee Employs Tortured Logic, Chicago Tribune, January 23, 2005

The Pathos of Advocacy: On the Use (And Misuse?) of Emotion in Lawrence v. Texas, (pending)

Court Speech as Political Action: Isocrates' Rhetorical Ideal and the Legal Oratory of Daniel Webster, Journal of the Association of Legal Writing Directors, forthcoming, Fall, 2006

Panelist, 2005 Meeting - Association for the Study of Law, Culture and Humanities

Panelist, 2000 Meeting - Working Group on Law, Culture and the Humanities

AWARDS/HONORS

Northwestern University School of Law Dean's Teaching Award, 2003-2004

Northwestern University School of Law Dean's Teaching Award -Honorable Mention, 2004-2005

Northwestern University School of Law Student Bar Association Leadership in Teaching Award, 2003-2004

Northwestern University School of Law Outstanding First Year Course Professor Award Nominee, 2003-2004, 2004-2005

Northwestern University School of Law Outstanding Small Class Professor Award Nominee, 2003-2004, 2004-2005

Northwestern University School of Law Last Lecturer Nominee, 2004-2005

Society of the David, Excellence in Law and Education Award, 2005

Northwestern University Political Science Honors Society

Northwestern University Three-Year Honors Bachelor of Arts Recipient

ACTIVITIES/
MEMBERSHIPS/ASSOCIATIONS/

Law and Humanities Institute

Spoletto Writers Workshop

Southern Poverty Law Center - Teach Tolerance Initiative

EDUCATION

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Degree Conferred: Master of Arts - Interdisciplinary Program in Humanities

Inquiry Concentration: Law, Culture and Democratic Theory

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY CHICAGO SCHOOL OF LAW

Degree Conferred: Juris Doctor

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Degree Conferred: Bachelor of Arts

Course Concentration: Major-Constitutional Politics; Minor-English Literature