

STEPHEN M. CUTLER is executive vice president and general counsel JPMorgan Chase & Co., in New York City, a position he assumed in February 2007. In this role, he is head of the company's Legal and Compliance activities worldwide and is also a member of the firm's Operating Committee. Prior to joining JPMorgan Chase, Mr. Cutler was a partner in the firm of Wilmer Cutler Pickering Hale and Dorr LLP in Washington, DC, a firm he rejoined in mid-2005. Prior, Mr. Cutler was the director of the Division of Enforcement at the United States Securities and Exchange Commission. He joined the Commission in 1999.

Before joining the SEC, he was a partner at the same firm, where he specialized in securities enforcement and broker-dealer compliance and regulation. Previously, he was a visiting fellow at the Center for Law in the Public Interest, Los Angeles, California, and before that, a law clerk to Judge Dorothy W. Nelson of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

Mr. Cutler received his JD from Yale Law School, and his BA from Yale University.
